GREAT WOODLAND PARK SALE.

Two Big Excursion Trains Come in Over the Shenandoah.

Over 650 Visitors Aboard the Specials and Several Hundred More Coming This Morning - The Programme Fixed for the Sale-A Ride Around the City and the Auction at 11 O'clock at the Park.

The programme for the day is fixed. The visitors who have come to attend the Woodland Park sale will assemble this morning at nine o'clock in front of the Norfolk and Western offices, where carriages will be in waiting.

From there they will be driven around the city and out Shenandoah avenue to the furnaces, machine shops, car works, rolling mills, bridge works and other establishments, returning to the northwest corner of Woodland Park in time for the sale, which is fixed for 11 o'clock.

Roanoke wept when the rain came down yesterday and laughed when the stars came out last night. The whole city is interested in the Woodland Park sale to-day and wants to have pleasant weather to greet the visitors from

All the hotels were full last night before a single special excursion train arrived, and when the trains did come, it seemed as if every nook and corner in Roanoke had been ransacked to receive them, that none should be left out in the cold, or go hungry and

If there is a single man of the 3,000 facing Auctioneer Frierson this morning who has not had his breakfast, let him speak out and stop the sale—until hotels and boarding houses The hotels and boarding houses crowded to overflowing. Cots were were put in halls, and every expedient resorted to, to accommodate the crowd. Private houses were thrown open freely, and everybody was taken in that could be.

The management of the sale request that it be stated that they expected only 300 visitors, and had made pro-vision personally for 500, but when over 650 came last night, they were not only overwhelmed, they were not only overwhelmed, they were swamped.

The excursion trains arrived this morning in two sections, the first at 1 o'clock and the other fifteen minutes later. The visitors were met at the depot by President Simmons and Secretary Parsons, of the Woodland Park Land Company, and several other prominent citizens of Roanoke.

There were about 650 people coming inent citizens of Roanoke.

There were about 650 people coming from different cities as follows: Baltimore 350, Frederick 100, Washington 75, Philadelphia 40. One hundred more from Baltimore and one hundred from Hagerstown will arrive on the regular train this morning,

Two car loads of the visitors were carried by a special train to Blue Ridge Springs where accommodations had been provided for them.

Almost a Horse Thief.

Mr. S. Kefauver, of the Roanoke Manufa; 'yring Company, left a saddled horse belonging to the company standing in front of his residence yesterday, and just as he was going from his residence to remount the animal an unknown individual jumped on the horse and rode away. Mr. Kefauver shouted after him, but in vain, and it was not until some time afterwards that the horse was found tied to a tree in Roger's Woods east of the city. The man is ing in front of his residence yesterday, Woods, east of the city. The man is known to the police, and will no doubt have to answer for his escapade.

Free Dog Transportation.

During the hunting season from October 15th 1890, to January 15th 1891, the Norfolk and Western Company will take free in baggage cars, when accompanied by the owners, and at their risk the dogs of sportsmen or hunting parties, not exceeding one dog to each man.

WRIGHT-NEAL.

Marriage of Mr. R. L. Wright and Miss Mary Neal.

Notwithstanding the fact that Jupiter Pluvius reigned supreme yesterday, a large number of people assembled at the First Presbyterian Church at 5 p. m. to witness the marriage of Miss Mary Neal to Mr. R. L. Wright. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the reading-desk was con-cealed by a bank of flowers, lighted by twenty-one wax candles, the number in-dicating the happy summers which have passed over the head of the fair young bride.

Three arches adorned the space in Three arches adorned the space in front of the rostrum, from the middle of one of which was suspended the monogram N. W., in white roses, within a horse-shoe of chrysanthemums. A beautiful melody was played by Miss Emma Dalby while the wedding party was entering, and it was continued with the soft standaring, the corrections. was entering, and it was continued with the soft stop during the ceremony. The Rev. Mr. Bridges, of Salem, performed the ceremony, which was a most solemn and impressive one. The bride was very attractively attired in a dark blue boucle cloth, with hat to match, and carried a boquet of white dahlias and roses. The attendants was as follows:

Miss Nannie Trent, in dark green Miss Nannie Trent, in dark green, with Mr. T. M. Hume: Miss Nola Wright, in blue, with Mr. N. D. Per-kins, Ushers: Messrs, H. M. Wright, A. R. Neal, J. N. Barksdale and F. Hel-vestine.

Mr. Wright is the efficient manager of the Bell Telephone Company in this city. Miss Neal is one of our most popular young ladies.

But happy they, the happiest of their kind, Whom gentle stars unite and in one fate Their hearts, their fortunes and their beings blend,"

The bride and groom left on the 5:30 train for Atlanta to attend the exposition and visit other cities of the South. A large number of friends accompanied them to the Union Depot and saw them start on their journey South with a hearty wish for a pleasant trip and all the happiness hereafter that this world

ALMOST UNKNOWN.

Two Authorities Agree that in Roanoke

One of the best evidences of the safety of investments in Roanoke real estate is the remarkably small number of forcelosures of deeds of trust.

Col. S. S. Brooke, clerk of the Husting's Court, said to a Times reporter yesterday: "I know of very few instances, remarkably few for the immense number of real estate transfers, where deeds of trust have been foreclosed on account of a failure to confirm to the

Mr. George C. McCahan, of the firm of James S. Simmons & Co., said: "I have been here since the first of April, and since that time we have not had a sale foreclosed and from my own observation very few of the large number of sales made this year have been foreclosed."

Every deed of trust sale has been advertised and they have been so few as to be scarcely noticeable.

Mayor's Court.

Mayor Evans disposed of the follow-Mayor Evans disposed of the following cases yesterday: Consideration of the charge against Mike Foley, of keeping his bar-room open on Sunday, was deferred until to-day. The cases of Mrs. Mary Robinson, Henry Geisman and J. H. Cannon, charged with the same offense, were also continued till to-day.

to-day. Charley Hunter was fined $10 for vagrancy.

Sallie Phelps, charged with fighting, will be heard in the court this morning.

She Disturbed the Church.

Berta Robinson was arrested by officer

T. A. Mabry yesterday for causing a disturbance at the High Street African Methodist Church. She had a fight with another colored female, and for a time the turnell was terrible. She will have a hearing before the Mayor this morning.

The Water Queen.

The "Water Queen" was presented last night to a crowded house, mostly of masculine persuation. The feature of the play was the shapeliness of the female artists.

To-night will be given the glove contest between Leyton and Murphy.

Hustings Court.

The trial of Wm. H. Ludler, charged with killing John Lindsary, colored, several months ago, occupied most of the attention of the Hustings Court yesterday. The case was countinued until this morning.

Traffic Delayed.

The wreck of the rear end of a freight train on the Norfolk and Western rail-road, near Christiansburg, delayed the movement of trains a couple of hours yesterday morning.
